ASTEK WALLCOVERING INC.

Aaron Kirsch, owner of Astek Wallcovering, has been creating custom wallcovering designs and applications for residential and commercial spaces since 1989. What began as a small family business has matured into a full-service design and digital printing firm with creative influences from across the globe. From high-end units in New York City to hotels in exotic destinations including Macau, China, Montreal, Canada and Miami, Kirsch and his team take pride in the wealth of innovative designs and materials they've developed over the years. In such a fast-paced industry, each highly qualified Astek designer knows the importance of securing a place at the forefront of new ideas and creative inspiration. "Our clients come to us looking for something that truly stands out as unique and exciting," states Kirsch. "Our design team works closely with each client and encourages creativity and communication with as few barriers as possible." Judging by the impact of its finished work, Astek takes research and development seriously, a core value that constantly evolves. While some clients prefer traditional damask or chinoiserie, others seek to test the limits of the wallcovering market. The styles, substrate materials and applications utilized by this Southern California firm are of the finest quality, which is the direct result of a passion for excellence shared by Kirsch, his team and their clients.
